28. In what areas, if any, might the Board improve?

Text Response
A little more time needs to be taken in order to better understand the District and Colleges budgets.
Setting clearer, results-oriented goals for District Services so that this function fully complements the educational responsibilities of the two colleges and ATEP.
Insuring the board fully understands the fiscal situation of our district and colleges.
Keep striving for excellence.

29. What should be Board goals, priorities, and/or tasks for the coming year?

Text Response
The Board should continue to stress the importance of student success, student accessibility and student completion. The Board needs to continue to follow sound fiscal policies that include wise and prudent use of public funds. Also to promote financial strength and stability and to promote educational opportunities for all students.
Continue to implement policies of fiscal prudence; Continue to create a climate of mutual respect; Listen to all stakeholders on what policies will continue to move the colleges and ATEP forward to deliver world class education to students; Help guide the Chancellor on leading the district forward in ways that benefit students, faculty, staff, administrators and the community; service as "ambassadors" for the district and the colleges in the community at-large.
Insuring our district and colleges chose the best candidates for every position in our district and colleges, from trustees, to all of our administrators at the district level and college level, to professors, to classified staff. This will insure we have the best colleges to serve our students. Settle the contract (s.) Partnerships with business and industry. Review our mandated policies for Student Success to insure these really do insure student success. Guard the programs our students count on for their success and their well being, e.g. our Emeritus Institute, our CTE programs that get our students jobs in our community, and our academic programs. Review our guarantee transfer programs to 4 year institutions, and our success in transferring students, and our students success after they transfer. Our students success in CTE programs in getting jobs in our communities, and how they do in those jobs.
I would like to look at the bargaining reporting process.

30. What are the strengths and accomplishments of the Board?

Text Response
There is a strong feeling of unity within the Board. Communications between Board members is excellent. The Board is strongly committed to the accomplishments of the Board's goals.
Strong fiscal policies that protect precious taxpayer resources; continue to make decisions based on providing quality, affordable education; capital improvements moving forward in a fiscally responsible manner; prioritizing resources so ensure student success.
We have the best board that I can remember. Board members are interested in the well being of our students, and in our programs. They don't micromanage. They don't talk about what happened in closed session -- and I can't remember a board that was better in keeping our closed session discussions confidential. We don't have any divisions or groups that take sides -- and this could be unprecedented also. WE are interested in the best education for our students, and trying to keep employees informed and feeling appreciated.
